1. BOC UPDATE

1.1 CEO INTRODUCTION

Meet Nick Sellers!

In December 2019, the Birmingham Organizing Committee welcomed its new CEO, Nick Sellers.

A respected Birmingham executive with demonstrated success in strategic leadership, operations and implementation, Sellers has made it his focus to deliver a world-class event that showcases Birmingham to athletes and visitors from around the globe.

“Honored and grateful are the two words that capture my feelings,” said Sellers. “We have a unique opportunity to present Birmingham and the state of Alabama to the world; so, our mission will be to deliver the best and most innovative competitor, spectator, and sponsor experience in the history of The World Games. I’ve always believed in Birmingham and have confidence that we will come together in a way in which we’ve never done before. Through the collaboration and leadership of the Birmingham Organizing Committee, city of Birmingham and International World Games Association, I’m convinced that the stars are aligned for us. This is our time.”

For the last 16 years, Sellers has served in a variety of leadership positions with Alabama Power and Southern Company, most recently as vice president of the Mobile Division at Alabama Power. His previous roles with the organization also include vice president of business origination, senior vice president of projection development and construction, and vice president of external and regulatory affairs.

Sellers also brings a background in sports and event operations through his work as director of operations for the Alabama Sports Foundation, where he was responsible for sponsorships, ticketing, and operations plans for large-scale events such as the SEC Baseball Tournament, Arby’s Hardwood Classic Invitational and Regions Tradition.

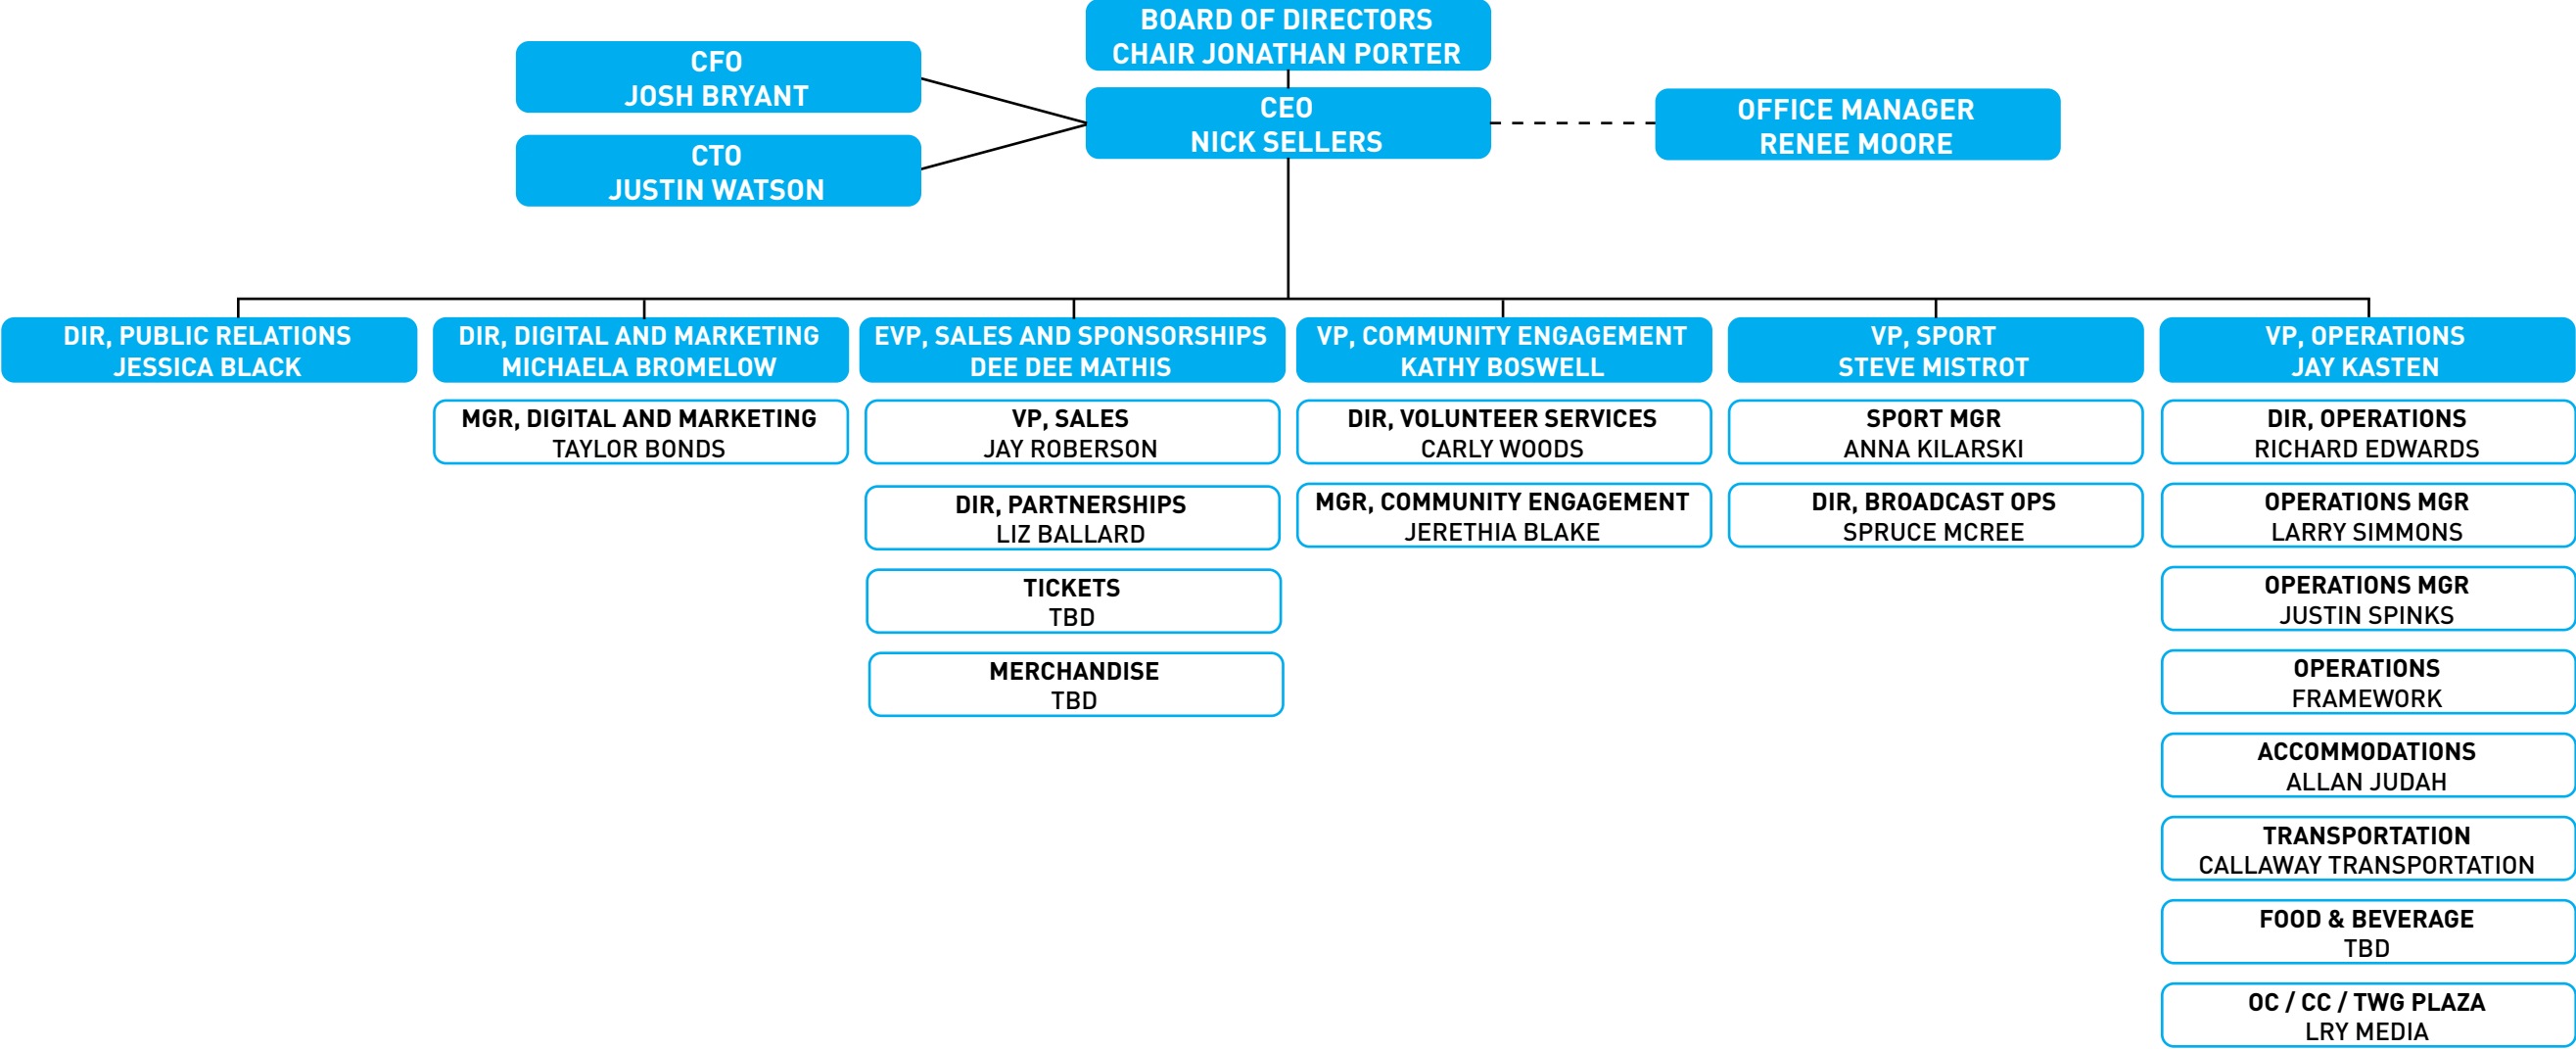

A native of Birmingham and graduate of the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California, Sellers also holds his Juris Doctor from the Birmingham School of Law. Currently, he is the chairman of the Alabama Sports Council, where he works to oversee all ASC events including the Magic City Classic and the Davis Cup Tennis Invitational.

4. SPORTS

4.2 Demonstration Sport Program

The Demonstration Sport Program is an opportunity for International Federations and respective National Federations to showcase their sports during The World Games 2022. The BOC and IWGA want to give all IWGA members, be they on the 2022 sports program or not, a platform to demonstrate their sports in Birmingham, Alabama, USA.

National and International Federations will have the opportunity to demonstrate and promote their sport and selected disciplines, not only by attendees watching a demo of the sport but also by giving attendees the chance to learn and practice these sports at the Sports Garden in The World Games Plaza and/or during competition break sessions.

Nine federations have committed to participate in the program: Aikido, Air Sports, Archery, Field Hockey, Floorball, Flying Disc, Ju-Jitsu, Orienteering, and Sumo.

The BOC is working with our special event product team, LRY Media Group to plan and prepare the demonstration sport activations per the application the federations submitted. As the team starts to plot out space and design the overall footprint of the Plaza, please be aware that the BOC may reach out to participating federations to finalize details and space needs.

4.3 Preview Events

The BOC has decided to refer to these pre-TWG 2022 events as “Preview Events” instead of the traditional “Test Events.” The BOC sees these events as Birmingham’s introduction to The World Games 2022. Since these events serve as Birmingham’s introduction to The World Games 2022, it is the belief of the BOC to market the events as “preview” instead of “test.”

Due to the postponement of The Games and COVID-19 there will be changes to initial preview events schedule. The Fistball World Tour Final, the Sub-Junior & Junior Powerlifting World Championship, and USA vs The World Kickboxing Gala have all been canceled for this year.

Preview Events Schedule for 2021 to be determined in collaboration with the federations.
